

rain
in a can point in space

on the roof pin pricks
needles

the plastic roof becomes my skin. a part of it above me the rest numb until pricked.
I form my edges through each dropping needle.

I am here

I am here

here